1. This is to certify that the person named herein has been registered in terms of the National Registration Act, 1976, and has surrendered all other official documents.
2. This document is temporary evidence of identity and is valid for a period of 3 months from the date of issue. The holder's national registration identity card should be collected within a period of 3 months from the date of registration.
3. This document must be carried at all times and surrendered in person to the office indicated below in exchange for the national identity card. If for some unavoidable reason attendance in person is not possible, the registering officer must be advised. Under no circumstances will a national identity card be issued to a person other than the person named in this document, who must personally check the details recorded therein for accuracy. The signature by the holder in the official receipt for the national identity card issued in his or her name will be deemed to be acceptance of the accuracy of the details contained therein.
4. If this document is lost, report without delay to the registration centre where the original registration took place. The loss of a temporary identity document may require a complete re-registration at the expense of the holder.
